

A private, in-home withdrawal program for alcohol and cannabis is now available on the Gold Coast.

Addiction In-home Recovery – AIR – enables patients to safely and discretely withdraw from alcohol or cannabis within the comfort of their own home.

We prioritise face-to-face care so our patients are safe and supported throughout their recovery. With minimal wait times, we can help those battling with addiction regain control and start their recovery sooner.

The detox program

To be eligible for this service, patients require a support person to stay with them during the seven day detox and must be able to stay on the Gold Coast.

Assessment

Dr Hok will conduct a full clinical assessment at the patient's home to ensure their safety for a home detox. We provide pathology requests; create a personalised withdrawal plan; and educate the patient and support person on emergency procedures. The alcohol program will have our patients commence thiamine and a multivitamin in preparation.

Withdrawal

The medicated detox takes seven days. Our doctor makes daily home-visits to adjust their medications and manage any withdrawal symptoms. All prescription medications are included and provided to the patient at their appointments, meaning no daily trips to the chemist. We also provide 24/7 medical support so patients feel safe and supported at every step.

Aftercare

We work with our patients and rehabilitation partners to create an individualised aftercare plan so patients can take control of their recovery and link in with rehabilitation services. We also book in regular follow-up appointments over 12 months and ensure their regular GP is updated every step of the way.

Cost

The cost of the program is $3,200 but the out-of-pocket cost is only $2,700 with the rest billed to Medicare. Monthly payment plans are available.
