

CERVICAL SCREENING IN PRACTICE: OPTIMISING HPV SELF-COLLECTION AND INTEGRATING WITH THE NCSR

Webinar

Wednesday 10

July 2024

7.00PM - 8.00PM

This webinar will discuss what you and your patients need to know about self-collection. We'll help you understand the evidence behind self-collection, equip you with the tools you need to effectively support patients to make an informed choice about this screening method, and support you to better engage those who are reluctant to screen. Learn how to seamlessly access and report clinical data for the cervical screening program through the National Cancer Screening Register (NCSR). Suitable for GPs, and practice teams.

Speakers:

- Dr Rebecca Starkie | M.B.B.S. (Hons). Ph D, FRACGP, Dip Child Health, GC-CLINED
- John Lee | Head of Engagement and Communication. Telstra Health National Cancer Screening Register

Learning outcomes:

- Compare the options for cervical screening to support your patients to make an informed choice
- Discuss clinical situations where self-collection can and cannot be offered
- Apply appropriate guidelines when following up people with positive HPV results
- Discuss the potential for HPV self-collection to engage those who are under or never screened into the NCSR
- Describe the benefits of integrating your clinical software with the National Cancer Screening Register and outline how to get connected.

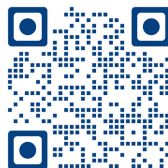

This is an RACGP approved CPD activity under the RACGP CPD Program – Activity ID: 893541
